

EXPERT TIPS BY: CORINNE WHITING
SEATTLE LOCAL EXPERT

ROMANTIC THINGS TO DO: "Check out special seasonal promos like the "Falls in Love" package, featured around Valentine's Day."

BEST FOR ROMANTIC THINGS TO DO BECAUSE: Ogle the stunning cascades at Snoqualmie Falls, afterwards cozying up in the decadent Salish Lodge and Spa.

Learn to Love This City—Indoors and Out—With Your Favorite Companion

BY CORINNE WHITING
SEATTLE LOCAL EXPERT

In Seattle, the options of how to fill a wide-open day (or weekend) sometimes feel endless—in the best way possible. Thanks to the Emerald City's stunning natural beauty, outdoor possibilities abound. And then, of course, residents and visitors also delight in exploring an abundance of indoor spaces that educate and entertain (think theatres, galleries, museums and so much more). Exploring this city with your significant other? All the better.

Romance can be found in the city's countless parks, beaches and urban green spaces, as well as at nearby hotels and spas that feature mountains, waterfalls and other natural wonders. When the weather behaves, these destinations can be perfect spots for sharing a sunrise or sunset with your special someone. Even a ferry ride across the choppy waters to Bainbridge Island can prove a romantic adventure. Sometimes, after all, the journey really is the best part of the day.

Indoor spaces—ranging from art galleries to iconic sightseeing attractions like the Space Needle—can also be romantic spots at which to pass some delightful hours. Seattle's arts scene thrives most every night of the week, and an evening at the cinema, theater or one of many music venues around the city can be the ideal way to enjoy a night on the town.

A scenic 30-minute drive from Seattle brings you to the charmingly rustic Salish Lodge & Spa, which offers Old-World ambience and modern elegance. Get out and enjoy nature near the lodge, whether hiking around the rushing cascades or trying activities like fly fishing and snoeshowing, depending on the season. Back at the cozy venue, dine on award-winning Northwest cuisine, while enjoying romantic views of Snoqualmie Falls. Breakfast specialties include Belgian Waffles with apple butter and the Farm Fresh Omelet plus a wide selection of coffees and teas that round out your meal, and lunchtime brings favorites like the Smoked Chicken Club. Dinnertime features classics like the Traditional Beef Wellington and Pacific Northwest Halibut Bouillabaisse, as well as comfort food favorites.