America's Favorite Brunch Spots According to OpenTable

Did your favorite Sunday hangout make the list?

Apparently Mother's Day is the busiest brunch day of the year, and if you've been out to, really any, restaurant lately you know that the mid-morning meal has become a serious contest to out-comfort-food the competition. But who brunches the best? Here are 100 worthy contenders around the country.

Online reservation site OpenTable has released its list of the 100 Best Brunch Spots in America for 2017, a list that is culled from 10 million reviews of 24,000 restaurants the site's users submitted between March 2016 and February 2017. The results are tallied using a few factors, according to OpenTable. "All restaurants with a minimum 'overall' score and number of qualifying reviews were included for consideration. Qualifying restaurants were then scored and sorted according to the percentage of reviews for which 'great for brunch' was selected as a special feature."

There was no particular ranking of these 100 eateries, but we've broken them down state by state to make it easy to see if your favorite local haunt made the list. And if it didn't, since OpenTable is user review-based, you only have yourself to blame (sorry, Connecticut, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Vermont, Washington D.C., West Virginia and Wyoming). Check out the list below, and the next time you're out with your crew, consider entering the #MomSquadBrunch giveaway to win an epic meal courtesy of OpenTable.
