

2017 Hottest Honeymoon Destinations

From beautiful beaches to grand adventures and off-the-beaten-path escapes into the wilderness, pick a region of the world and pack your bags for the trip of a lifetime.

By Jen Murphy

Snoqualmie, Washington

Why go: Just 40 minutes from Seattle you'll find wilderness trails, waterfalls and the soaring Cascade Mountains.

When to go: Mid-July through September is ideal for outdoor activities.

Where to stay: A resident romance concierge ensures every detail of your stay at the Salish Lodge & Spa is magical (from $219; SalishLodge.com). All 84 rooms have oversize tubs and fireplaces. Relax in the pools of the cedar-and-eucalyptus-scented spa.

Best for: Outdoor lovers; spa enthusiasts

Instagram-worthy shot: The Salish Lodge overlooks a roaring 268-foot waterfall. If you're lucky, a perfect rainbow may even appear. Time a walk to the viewing platform accordingly and you can catch this treat from Mother Nature.