

6 Fun Day Trips From Seattle

If you have a day to spare, consider venturing beyond town to these destinations.

By Charyn Pfeuffer, Contributor | June 29, 2017, at 9:00 a.m.

Sure, Seattle is a destination unto itself. But if you have a day to spare, there are a lot of great spots to explore beyond the city. Here are six destinations well worth taking a day trip for.

Snoqualmie

From Seattle, it takes less than an hour to drive to the charming town of Snoqualmie, perfect for a romantic getaway.

"Views from the top and bottom of the 270-foot Snoqualmie Falls are just outstanding," says Isaac Tarin, concierge at Hotel Andra.

Feeling peckish? Tarin recommends the country breakfast at the upscale Salish Lodge & Spa, which overlooks the falls. "If you like honey, you need to try the local-farmed honey the lodge uses in their cooking and for their breakfast biscuit. Also, don't miss their delicious honey beer."