The 51 Best Things To Do in Seattle This Week: July 16-22, 2018

Baby Goats and Brews, Lusio Lights Georgetown, and More Arts & Culture Critics' Picks

Don't miss AFTER LIFE (what remains) at the Alice Gallery, a group show featuring indigenous and Asian Pacific American artists that will close after Saturday. LEEROY

Our music critics have already chosen the 36 best music shows this week (including Capitol Hill Block Party), but now it's our arts critics' turn to pick the best events in their areas of expertise. Here are their picks in every genre—from Lauren Weedman Doesn't Live Here Anymore to the Third Annual Baby Goats and Brews, and from the Bite of Seattle to Lusio Lights Georgetown. See them all below, and find even more events on our complete Things To Do calendar.

MONDAY

FOOD & DRINK

Barangay Fiesta: Filipino Pop-Up Night

Joule sous chef Tom Hoolian and the Trove team will collaborate to create a menu of festive Filipino party favorites like fresh lumpia, crispy pata, shrimp ukoy, and their take on mussel kinilaw and pancit palapa.

READINGS & TALKS

Rachel Z. Arndt: Beyond Measure

Kirkus called Rachel Z. Arndt's new collection of personal essays "a keen, close study of the neuroses attached to everyday living." Throughout Beyond Measure, she reflects on the timing of arriving at events, describes the many insidious ways people take measure of women's bodies, and philosophizes on the nature of dating apps, all with a journalist's curiosity and novelist's eye for detail. RICH SMITH

MONDAY-THURSDAY

ART

Blank Boy Canvas

Hong Kong artist Danny Yung is the creator of Tian Tian, a "blank boy" that you can fill in with paint or markers. This exhibition shows off Tian Tians that have been painted by artists. Sadly, it will be the last exhibit at Mokedo, which is being forced into nomadism.

TUESDAY

FOOD & DRINK

Pursued by Bear & Abeja Winemaker Dinner with Kyle MacLachlan

Who knew that Agent Cooper moonlighted as a winemaker? Join Kyle MacLachlan himself inside Snoqualmie's Salish Lodge (a.k.a. the inspiration for the Great Northern Hotel on Twin Peaks), where he'll present wine pairings from his Columbia Valley winery Pursued By Bear along with winemaker Daniel Wampfler. The night will start with passed appetizers in Salish's herb gardens and include a locally inspired five-course dinner from executive chef Ben Riggs. Guests may also purchase up to two bottles of wine to be signed by MacLachlan and Wampfler.

Salmon Colored Summer Dinner

Four local chefs will celebrate salmon season with a five-course dinner paired with Cannas Feast wines, and they'll donate 10 percent to FISH Friends of Issaquah Salmon Hatchery.
