

The 10 Best Tours You Can't Miss If You Love TV Shows

BY VANESSA ELLE – ON JUL 24, 2019 IN DESTINATIONS

The only thing better than watching your favorite TV show on repeat is actually visiting the city where that show was filmed. Many of the world's most popular TV shows have their own tours that will show you the various filming locations featured on screen, as well as immersing you into the world of that particular show.

RELATED: 20 Places Every Game Of Thrones Fan Needs To Visit Today

Anything can happen on a TV show tour—you might be invited to participate in some archery, ride a horse through a national park, or take a selfie in a world-famous location. Keep reading to find out what tours you can't afford to miss if you're a TV show buff!

9

TWIN PEAKS TOUR, WASHINGTON STATE

Black Tomato is taking fans of the Twin Peaks on a themed tour around Washington State. Beginning in Seattle, the tour eventually takes fans to Olympic National Park. From there, it's over to the real setting of the town of Twin Peaks: Snoqualmie.

On the tour, you'll also get a chance to check out the famous waterfalls that are seen in the opening credits of Twin Peaks. Accommodation is pretty fancy since you'll get to stay at the Salish Lodge & Spa, which appears as the Great Northern Hotel in the show.